

SMART Certified Trainer for SMART Meeting Pro™

Customers know they can expect high-quality business professional services from SMART Certified Trainers (SCTs). If you or your organization wants to provide SMART Meeting Pro software training, register for this program to work towards the SCT designation.

This program includes SMART Meeting Pro software, Freestorm™ visual collaboration solution and facilitator training. You can complete all the required training during a single two-day event, or in smaller increments online. After you are an SCT, you will get access to all training material and will be listed as a SCT on the SMART website.

You'll learn:

- What SMART expects of its SCTs, and how SMART supports them
- How to use SMART Meeting Pro software and Freestorm solutions at an advanced level
- How to deliver the high-quality SMART Meeting Pro software training sessions that customers expect

Who should attend?

Resellers, sales staff and professional trainers who are interested in training others to use their Freestorm solution including SMART Meeting Pro software.

Note: Confident use of a Windows® or Mac® computer is required for this program. Experience using SMART Notebook™ collaborative learning software on a SMART Board® interactive whiteboard is strongly recommended.

What's required for completion?

SCTs are expected to be product experts and confident facilitators. You must take three online prerequisite courses, attend the event, submit a video assignment, pass an online assessment and sign a contract to receive the SCT for SMART Meeting Pro designation and SMART training for business material.

What do I need?

- A computer with the most recent version of SMART Meeting Pro software installed and the ability to connect to the Internet. Browse to smarttech.com/Downloads.
- A user name and password for the SMART Learning Space (SLS). Registration is free.
- To make the most of your session, download the event resources files from the SLS before attending
- There may be additional requirements for participants taking courses in a live online format

How do I register?
